DETAILED ACTION

This is in reference to communication received 05 February 2007. Cancellation of all previously pending claims and addition of new claims 21 – 46 is acknowledged.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments for newly added claims 21 – 46 are responded to in response to the newly added pending claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 21 – 46 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over John Cook newspaper article "Well-Funded Xpertsite.com Making Hay With Its Popular Answer Service" hereinafter known as Cook in view of previously cited archived web pages of Keen.com hereinafter known as Keen.

Art Unit: 3629

Regarding Claims 21, 31 and 39, Cook teaches system and method for connecting a communication device with an intermediary facility (Xpertsite.com). Cook does not explicitly teach selecting a receiver to receive text. However, Cook teaches Keen.com as one on the competitors of Xpertsite.com. Keen teaches idea of selecting a receiver to receive text;

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Cook as taught by Keen to allow the user to select a consultant of their choice.

Cook in view of Keen teaches idea for:

transferring a fee;

transmitting the text from the communication device to the receiver through the intermediary facility, wherein contact information of the receiver is hidden from the communication device.

Regarding Claims 22, Cook in view of Keen teaches concept wherein the intermediary facility is a server.

Regarding Claims 23, 33 and 41, Cook in view of Keen teaches concept wherein wherein the text is transmitted as one of an electronic mail (e-mail) message and physically mailed.

Regarding Claims 24, 34 and 42, Cook in view of Keen teaches concept wherein the receiver is a publicly known person.

Regarding Claims 25, 35 and 43, Cook in view of Keen teaches concept wherein the contact information is an account.

Regarding Claims 26, 36 and 44, Cook in view of Keen teaches concept wherein the receiver receives a benefit by receiving the text, and the benefit is one of a personal benefit.

Regarding Claims 27 and 37, Cook in view of Keen teaches concept wherein the text is transmitted on a network.

Regarding Claims 28, 38 and 45, Cook in view of Keen teaches concept wherein the communication device receives a confirmation of delivery of the text, and the confirmation of delivery is received as an e-mail.

Regarding Claims 29 and 46, Cook in view of Keen teaches concept wherein the confirmation of delivery is received as an e-mail.

Regarding Claims 30, 32 and 40, Cook in view of Keen teaches concept wherein the fee is one of paid for by a user of the communication device, and the fee is paid to an account of the intermediary facility.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Applicant is required under 37 CFR '1.111 (c) to consider the references fully when responding to this office action.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).
